No.340/GAD dated 15th June 1923.

The total period of combined leave granted to Dr. Asirvatham in instalments, from 29th October 1920 to 16th October 1922, was 2 years 11 months and 18 days, of which he had utilised upto and inclusive of 31st December 1922, 2 years 2 months and 1 day, the unavailed of portion being 9 months and 14 days from 1st January 1923.

2. Having had 2 months and 14 days privilege leave from 29th October 1920, he was certified as being entitled to 9 months and 18 days furlough on full pay, under Clause v of Article 333A, Civil Service Regulations.

3. As furlough earned by Dr. Asirvatham on 29th October 1920 was 3 years, 2 months and 18 days, of that utilised by him up to 31st December 1922 was 1 year, 11 months and 29 days, he had [illegible] furlough for 1 year, 2 months and 28 days on 1st January 1929. Deducting therefrom the equivalent of 3 months and 18 days furlough on full average viz., 7 months and 2 days under Clause ii of Article 209A, there was to his credit over 6 months furlough which was certified as being available on one-fourth Average Salary.

4. But as he had only 1 year, 11 months and 20 days furlough on half average up to 31st December 1929 he can also be granted 10 days furlough on half average salary in continuation of the said 3 months and 18 days furlough on full average and in extension thereof furlough on quarter average up to and inclusive of 28th October 1929, so as to bring the total period of combined leave to 2 years Vide Articles 201(a) and 209 Mysore Service Regulations.

5. As Clause (vi) of Article 209 A, which permits the grant of furlough on half average salary in continuation of combined privilege leave and furlough on full average salary, does not impose any time limit up to which the total period of such combination may be allowed, an officer is entitled to a leave allowance equal to half his average salary for each period of 2 years of furlough under Article 209 Mysore Service Regulations along with [illegible]

Mr. Asirvatham is on combined leave from 29th Octor. 1920. On 1st January 1923, the position was as follows:--

Leave earned.		Leave admissible.	Leave utilized.	Leave at credit.
	Y. M. Days.	Y. M. D.	Y. M. D.	Y. M. D.
Privilege..	0--2--14	Privilege.. 0--2--14	0--2--14	Nil.

		Furlough on ¼ av.salary. (Med.Cert.)	0-9-16	nil.	0--9--16
Total ..	3--5--2		3--9--12	2--2---4	0--9--26

The point for consideration now is whether furlough on quarter average salary can be converted into full average salary and if so at what rate.

In this connection the question whether under clause vi≡ of Art. 209 A, an officer can be granted furlough on half average salary for 2 years in continuation of furlough on full average salary for 6 months in India, and 8 months outside India has also to be decided. If this is allowed, an officer would have practically enjoyed furlough (on half average salary for 3 years or 3 years and 4 months at a time, since under clause (ii) of Art.209 A. furlough on full average salary is equal to twice the period of furlough on half average salary. It is also to be decided whether furlough on quarter average salary may be granted in continuation and if so for what total period such combined leave can be granted at a time.

Comptroller's notice Certificate of leave admissible is Correct. Clause (iii) of Art 209 A of Mis. R is clear on the point that leave funds on half average Salary may be granted in Continuation of funds on average Salary or of privilege leave funds on average Salary, and there is no limitation as regards the period of this Combined leave. The effect of clause (ii) of Art 209 A is not to limit the total period of Combined leave that can be taken at a time but only to reduce the period of funds admissible when calculating leave admissible.

The total period of furlough on full or half average salary at a time cannot exceed two years. This officer has availed of furlough on half average aalary for 1 year, 11 months and 20 days to end of December 1922 and no part of this period can now be converted into furlough on full average salary. The balance to make up two years is 10 days and he can have this period as furlough on full average salary. An additional period of 10 days will be deducted from the total furlough to his credit. The interval from the 11th January 1923 to the date upto which he requires leave has to be treated as furlough on quarter average salary.
